DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 7-12 and 32-35 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 and 10-27 of copending Application No. 10/845016. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they claim the same three-dimensional garment pad and kit with the bonding materials structured as claimed..

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 7-12 and 32-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 7-12 and 32-35 are still not complete in that applicant is only claiming adhesive on "a portion of the bonding fabric". However in order to attach to both the three-dimensional pad outer adhering surface and the garment there must be at least two adhesive portions, one on each side of the bonding fabric. The terms used in claim 10 are contradictory since it states that the double-sided tape has adhesive on a first and second side of a non-adhesive tape strip. The term non-adhesive tape is not necessary and adds confusion since the double sided tape is actually a tape strip with adhesive on both sides or surfaces of the tape strip. Claims 11 and 12 are unclear for the same reasons as claim 10. In claim 32 it is not clear as to where the first and second surfaces of the support layer are located. Applicant has not claimed them as being on opposite surfaces of the fabric material. As presently claimed one could state that the first and second surfaces are adjacent. Also in the claims the outer adhering surface has not been claimed as being the surface that is dome shaped. The first and second surfaces in claim 33 should be claimed as being on opposite surfaces. Claims 34 and 35 are not clear for the same reasons as claim 33. In claim 35 it is still not clear as to what the partial dome shaped configuration encompasses. Figure 8 shows the flat plan view of the top of the support layer panels. However in figure 7 it is not clear as to how it is partial and not just dome-shaped. By removing the limitation that the pad is dome shaped to conform to a breast or shoulder of a wearer has now broadened the claims and sets off a new search because now one has to search all pad areas including sports pads for different areas of the body that are dome shaped and attached to garments and other prosthetic pads for other body areas such as the lower torso buttocks pads. Therefore it is suggested that applicant reconsider the deletion. A better recitation than what was originally claimed is to claim the dome shape as configured to correspond to any one of a breast region or shoulder region and to state that the domed surface is away from the skin surface of the wearer. IF such a correction is not made after the next response the Examiner will have to re-open the search since the scope of the claims has now be broadened with the limitation deletions. The submission of the foreign references relied upon in rejections with the foreign patent offices is appreciated. However, it appears that all of the correspondence has not been submitted such as previous actions sent to applicant from the foreign patent offices. Such as the correspondence of 1-6-07. IT is also not clear as to what is shown in figure 4 of the Nagasaka patent submitted on 9-11-08. Also applicant should discuss the relevance of the prior art submitted and the EPO rejections and as to why the prior art cited by the EPO is not relevant.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
